The Three Mongolians From New York Over | The Cruiser Atlanta to Sail at Once for Whom the Legal Fight is to Be Made. The steps required to bring before the T. D. Riordan of San Francisco, counsel for the Chinese Six Companies. It is expected that the cases will be heard tomorrow and that a decision will be announced next Monday. Solicitor General Aldrich will represent the government in the argument before the Supreme Court upon the appeal from the judgment of the circuit court, and Messrs.

Joseph H. Choate of New York and J. Hubley
Ashton of Washington the petitioners. Messrs.
T. D. Riordan of San Francisco and Maxwell
Evarts of New York assisted in the preparation of the cases in the court below for the Chinese.
The first steps in the security to New York The first steps in the cases were taken in New York Saturday, when three Chinamen were Jacobus. The Chinamen were Wong Quan, a Chinese laborer of No. 4 Mott street; Lee Joe, a laundryman of No. 2077 3d avenue, and Fong Yue Ting, a laborer of No. 1 Mott street. These three men appeared at the marshal's office for the purpose of being placed under arrest, and over them the constitutionality question is to be fought. Yung Kui, an attache of the Chinese legation, and L. Wing, the Chinese vice consul in this city, were interested specta-

This same charge was preferred against Fong Yue Ting and both plead guitty.

Against Lee Joe another charge was pre-ferred, so that the other horn of the dilemma W.H.McKnew could be grasped. Joe was charged with not having presented himself before the collector of internal revenue with a credible white wit-ness, as the law requires, and who could make affidavit that Joe was in this country on May 5, 933 Pa. Ave. 1892, when the law was passed.

Joe had applied for a certificate of residence, but as he presented Chinese witnesses the paper was refused him. The distinction, if it can be so called, of being the first Chinese laborer to be ordered deported from the country under the provisions of the law belongs to Wong

Quan and Joe, a few minutes after their ar- the administration had come to some definite rest, were taken before Judge Addison Brown in the United States district court room, where United States District Attorney Edward Mitchell asked that an order be signed for Quan's de-remanded the prisoner to the custody of United States Marshal Jacobus. Then a like United States Marshal Jacobus. Then a like proceeding took place over Lee Joe.

With the completion of the first step Lawyers Choate and Evarts beat a hasty retreat for Judge Lacombe's chambers, where they procured a writ of habeas corpus in both cases and the prisoners were arraigned before him forthwith, and in two minutes the writs were dismissed and the prisoners were back in the custody of the United States marshal. Fong Yue Ting was habeas corpused directly from United States Marshal Jacobus' custody before Judge Lacombe and again the writ was dismissed. Judge Lacombe fixed the bail in each case at $500.

The prisoners were taken before United States Commissioner Shields, where Kiliaen Van Renssalaer, a custom house broker. of No. 56 Wall street, qualified as bondsman for each of the Chinamen.

THE NEW PENSION COMMISSIONER. Judge Loughren Takes the Oath and For mally Enters Upon His Duties.

Judge Loughren, the new commissioner pensions, entered formally upon his duties today. The oath of office was administered Mr. Dawson, the chief clerk of Interior Department, and then the new commissioner went over to the pension building. During the morning the chiefs of division were introduced to him. He was in an inner room attached to the office occupied by the commissioner of pensions when a Star reporter called, and he sent out word that he had nothing to say and nothing to give to the public.

Rumored Recall of Minister Romero. Mr. Romero, the Mexican minister, says he has no knowledge of the reported intention of President Diaz to recall him and reinstate him at the head of the Mexican treasury department. When the minister returned to Washington some weeks ago, after an absence of nearly a year, it was stated that his place in the cabinet had not been filled and that he would probably go back to the City of Mexico. Nothing has occurred to change that probability in any way, but President Diaz has not yet indicated when Mr. Romero will be recalled.

The Gold Reserve.

The gold reserve was today at the same figure as yesterday, and as no shipments will be made from New York today it is likely that the usual daily increase will continue until next Saturday at least. The statement that the St. Louis banks had made an additional offer of $2.090,000 in gold was discredited at the Treasury Department.

TROOPS ORDERED TO STOP IT. No Railroad to Be Constructed in the Puy allup Reservation.

Some time ago the Secretary of the Interior requested the War Department to send troops to the Puyallup Indian reservation to prevent a man named Ross from unlawfully constructing a railroad across the reservation. Mrs. Tucker and several others were their graduating medals, suspended from a little bow of white ribbon. Others greatly regretted not having

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT. Mrs. Dunn made a report of the last meet ing, and incidentally told very gracefully but faithfully the story of the formation of the were lost because of wrong addresses, but out of it all a temporary society of 191 members was formed. On the 3d of March the society was incorporated. The charter, a legal documer upon which everybody looked with considerab awe, had a place all to itself on the table in front of the president. Between the date of lowing it some controversies arose be-tween the officers of the association and the directress of the academy, which has resulted in a good many resignations, so that the ladies present at the meeting represented an association of 122 members. Upon a motion made by Miss Ella Loraine Dorsey, this report of the secretary was unanimously adopted.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS DISCUSSED. The next business was the reading and dis cussion of the constitution and by-laws. Mrs. Ella Whitthorne Harvey, chairman of this committee, read the document, which would have been adopted as a whole, but upon the motion of the president, each section was read separately and fully and freely discussed, nearly every lady present taking part in it. The point at issue, defining the duties of the executive committee, giving it full control of the future proceeding of the association, was unanimously adopted It has power to pass upon all applications to membership, &c., and virtually controls it. MILWAUKEE STREET.

Against Its Opening and Extension.

The opening and extension of Milwaukee street from Cleveland Heights to Connecticut went to bed. When she awoke, she said, Harry avenue extended formed the subject of a hearing before the Commissioners this afternoon.

It was originally intended to have the hearing Mrs. Mansfield said that Jessie became very on the 25th of April, but it was postponed to sick and the next day she sent for Dr. Harrison. He advised that the child be sent to a When the hearing opened this afternoon there were present to object Messrs. Gardiner G.

Ridout, attorney. Those who favored the open-ing extension were represented by Senator Stewart and Messrs. Waggaman and Stellwagen.

Mr. Ridout on the part of the objectors filed the following objections:
That the law under which said extension is to be made applies only to roads and San Francisco, Cal., and will report to the commanding officer, Columbus barracks, Ohio, for duty at that station.

First Lieut. Charles Willcox, assistant surgeon, will be relieved from temporary duty at Angel Island. Cal., and will report to the commanding officer. Presidio of San Francisco, Cal., for duty at that station.

The extension of leave of absence granted trict of Columbia lying outside of the cities, Maj. Tullius C. Tupper, sixth cavalry, is still further extended three months on account of sickness.

The board appointed by special orders of March 15, 1893, for the purpose of reporting upon the "blanket-roll support" designed by Sixth Cavalry is still tout Charles Pedes in the Commissioners no longer have authority to decide whether the proposed extension will be conducive to the public interests or is required by the public convenience, but exclusive jurisdiction to determine such question is rested in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia.

require the immediate opening or extension of said street. That the said proposed extension is demanded only for private purposes of persons interested in subdividing adjoining land. That no estimate has been submitted to Con-fact represent orly a single interested party.

Mr. Ridout 'a arguing the objections commenced by stating it was the desire of practian agreement with private parties to pay the damages. He cited the decision in the Blake case in the widening of Columbia road in support of his argument. He held that the law under which the proposed proceedings were to be taken was inoperative for the reason that it was intended for the opening of county roads and not streets. But even if it were applicable to the opening of streets it had were applicable to the opening of streets it had been superseded by the act of March 3, 1893, been superseded by the act of March 3. 1893, providing for a permanent system of highways.

Senator Stewart held there was great necessity for the opening of this street and the public demanded it. Its opening would afford better facilities for travel and throw upon the market a quantity of desirable property.

Mr. Pierre Waggaman also spoke in favor of the opening of the street.

The Commissioners reserved their decision.

A sad case, involving the downfall of a sixeen-year-old girl and the alleged criminal conduct of a young man, was before the Police Court today. Perhaps before the case comes up for trial in the court the action of the coroner may be necessary in order to determine, if possible, whether or not the girl died from the result of personal violence. The victim of the sad affair is Jessie E. Langley, a little sixteen-year-old daughter of Mrs.

Mary E. Mansfield, whose home is at No. 1322
L street southeast, in a locality known as "Pipetown." Mrs. Mansfield's husband is emother and to defer more gracefully to each other's opinion than was ever possible in their school days. The ladies very generally called each other by their first names, which gave a pleasing diversity to the proceedings and naturally contributed to a more perfect acquaintance than they have had time for very large her consent for Jessie to live out in service. For several months Jessie lived with a family at Takoma Park, but about a month time for very large her consent for Jessie to live out in service. ago her mother brought her to the city and procured for her a good home in a family on 6th street southeast. Jessie seemed perfectly contented with her home, and nearly every evening she returned to her mother's house. One week ago Sunday night the mother learned of a sad state of affairs existing be-with Thompson.

Harry Thompson is eighteen years old and lives with his mother, sisters and brother on New Jersey avenue southeast between M and N streets. Jessie Langley had visited the Thomp-sons against the protests of her mother, as the mother states.

A POLICE INVESTIGATION. Just about one week ago the police learned restigation, and to Policeman Auguste Jessie's mother related the story which has caused endless trouble and sorrow in ber household. "Drugged and outraged" was the substance of the mother's complaint to the officer, although at first it was not thought that the society from its first inception in a conversation between Mrs. Tucker and herself last summer while both were at Deer Park.

When Policeman Auguste learned of the serious condition of the girl he hastened to the Police Court and swore out a warrant charging young Thompson with rape, and it was on this warrant that Sergt. He was held at the fifth precinct station until oday, when he was taken to the Police Court, where the case was continued and bail was fixed at $2,000.

THE MOTHER'S STATEMENT. When a STAR reporter called at the home of Mrs. Mansfield in "Pipetown" this morning he found the mother beside the bed of her child, while in another room was another of her offspring under the care of a physician. To the reporter Mrs. Mansfield related the story as
